

Course Description: Construction

The construction program will engage students in hands-on activities taught by an experienced instructor from the construction industry.

Students will be introduced to various topics, which include basic safety, construction math, hand and power tools, construction drawings, communication skills, employability skills, building materials, and more while working on carpentry projects.

Students have the opportunity to earn CPR and First Aid certification.

